NORTH POMFRET

Mr. and Mrs. George Baker spent last Sunday at Frank Snow's in Barnard.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Clifford returned from their visiting trip Monday.

Mrs. Lill Ryan is for the present with her mother, Mrs. Putnam, who has been quite ill but is now much better.

Victor Bushway and a friend were guests at Howard Bushway's Sunday.

Mrs. Mark Mudgett and Lucille were in Quebec one day last week. Charles Mudgett of Haverhill, N. H., visited at Mrs. Elva Mudgett's recently.

Lester Clifford has a new Wing piano.

Will Burke was at his father's last Saturday and Sunday, having brought his son Perley to Hanover for an operation for appendicitis.

Shot at King Victor.

An attempt was made to assassinate King Victor Emmanuel in Rome Thursday morning. Several shots were fired at the king but they missed the target, and his majesty escaped unhurt. The assassin, Antonio Dalba, was arrested.

President Guy Potter Benton of the University of Vermont will speak at the commencement exercises of the Bethel High school June 7.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

Capt. Karl A. Pember, now holding a temporary commission, went to Montpelier Wednesday to attend an examination of officers of the First Vermont infantry. Upon successfully passing the prescribed examination the candidates will receive permanent commissions.

President Guy Potter Benton of the University of Vermont will give his lecture on "Samuel Adams," in Music hall Tuesday evening, March 26, under the auspices of the senior class of the High school.

Geo. M. Rood has been elected chairman of the new board of selectmen.

Mrs. Edward A. Abbott, returned from Homer, Neb., where she has been visiting her mother, last week.

The meetings at the Y. M. C. A. will begin again next Wednesday evening March 20, when a sugar party will be part of the program. All members are urged to come and bring a lady.

A Boston paper says that five more promising young ball players were given contracts by the Greater Boston Baseball league on Monday. Among them is Clyde A. Ruggles of Boston, a pitcher. He was formerly employed at the Woodstock Inn for several years and took a prominent part in local athletics and baseball.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the Arts and Crafts room March 22, at 2:30 p. m.

Dr. G. H. Spiller, optician, will be at J. C. Nutting's, in Woodstock, March 22, in Windsor, March 25.

John Welch has bought Dr. A. N. Logan's barn near the corner of "Mechanics" and Court streets, the purchase including a small piece of land there. The barn has accommodations for half a dozen horses, and Mr. Welch will keep there two of his colts—one a grandson of Bingen (206) and the other a son of Aquilan. His horses are now at his place on the South road, formerly the Cabot farm, and he bought the barn here in order to be able to give them better oversight and care.

Carl R. Hathorn lost one of an excellent pair of Holstein steers the other day, this accident following rather quickly the loss of a good horse. The steers were descending a steep hillside with a load of wood and in gathering speed were pushed off a bridge, one being killed.

Mrs. F. D. Brannock was in Rutland a few days the past week.

The King farm at West Woodstock has been leased for three years to B. E. Hood, who will move there next week. Mrs. Frances King of Stamford, Conn., who was at the Inn this week, reserves the use of the residence for herself and family during their summer vacations here.

The Woodstock Inn is putting in twelve new bath-rooms, E. F. Wardwell having charge of the plumbing. The house is also being re-wired, this work having been in progress for some time. New electric lamps of the most approved pattern are being put in, this improvement in the lighting arrangements extending to every room in the house.

Rev. E. C. Drouin of St. Johnsbury has been in town a few days this week.

Bailey L. Paige, who died in Boston Sunday, has been at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Case the past three summers and was a cousin of Mrs. E. A. Emery. The Boston Journal of Monday said:

"Bailey L. Paige, the oldest real estate and insurance broker in the West Roxbury district, club man and descendant of a Revolutionary family, died at the Paige home, 2 Alveston street, yesterday, aged 63 years, after a five weeks' illness. He was born and educated in the public schools in Jamaica Plain, and a close friend and neighbor of Governor Foss. Mr. Paige never married and is survived by a sister, Miss Mary N. Paige, and three brothers, Joseph E. Paige of Jamaica Plain, John A. of Chicago and the Rev. Harland Paige of Hardwick."

Mrs. Lizzie Benjamin died early Wednesday morning at the Kidder home on Court Street, aged 62 years. She had been ill for a long time, coming here from Briggs last December, where she lived for several years, and suffered greatly during the past few months. She was a daughter of Elias H. and Sarah Lamphar Kidder. She leaves a brother, Philo, and two sisters, Clara, of this village, and Mrs. C. F. Dolloph of Dewey Mills. The funeral service was held at the house Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. F. T. Clark officiating.

Miss Evelyn Fuller went to Lynn, Mass., last week to visit the public schools there.

Arthur E. Spaulding removed his undertaking business to South Royalton last week.

A few inches of snow fell Tuesday evening, the storm turning to rain Wednesday morning. After a day's intermission rain fell again Friday and the streets and sidewalks are heavy with slush and water.

The Rebekahs gave an enjoyable whist party of 26 tables Thursday evening. The first prize for ladies was won by Mrs. Emma Slayton; first prize for men was won by Charles Cobb. The booby prizes were taken by Mrs. Collins and F. S. Payne.

Made in Woodstock.

The recent tragedy in Rutland has aroused many of our local users of electricity to the safety of their own lighting fixtures, and some of them have quickly found that here in Woodstock a device is to be had which eliminates all danger from shock in operating electric pull chains or buttons.

This device, which is an insulator for the pendant chains used in operating certain types of electric lamps, is the recent invention of Thomas M. Harrigan, whose Boston agency has already sold thousands of them all over the country, and electricians and the trade papers are saying all sorts of good things about it.

When Superintendent Wilfred Smith of the Woodstock Electric company was asked what could be done to obviate the danger of death-dealing shocks from electric light fixtures, he replied promptly that every bracket ought to be up at least six feet from the floor and equipped with a pull socket and one of Harrigan's insulators. This insulator, he said, would easily resist 2000 volts, which is about twenty times the voltage of the ordinary light.

Superintendent Smith was somewhat at a loss to account for the fatal accident at Rutland; employees of his company were continually receiving shocks of the same voltage which killed the young Rutland lawyer, but in the latter's case he was standing in water, making a perfect contact, and Superintendent Smith intimated that there was no telling the intensity of the shock under such circumstances.

In the last few days Mr. Harrigan has received inquiries in regard to his insulator from all over New England, aside from the local demand for it, and his sales will be largely increased as its efficiency becomes known. And one of its good features is its simplicity and cheapness.

AMUNDSEN'S STORY.

Read Amundsen's own story of his discovery of the South Pole. On the fourth page of this paper.

George H. Harvey

George H. Harvey, well known for many years as a singer and teacher of music, died at his home in this village Tuesday morning in his 85th year. He had been ill for several years. His wife died a few weeks ago.

Mr. Harvey was born in Lebanon, N. H., in 1827. His family moved to Royalton when he was eight years old and he passed his younger years there. He began early his career as a teacher; for a time he studied under Lowell Mason, famous as a teacher and composer, and later taught music in Massachusetts, New Jersey, New Hampshire and Vermont, also singing in various churches in Massachusetts and New Hampshire.

Mr. Harvey was married in Canterbury, N. H., and passed a few years on a farm there; then returning to Royalton, he bought a farm, but still kept up his interest in music. In company with the late W. O. Perkins he conducted successful musical conventions in this state.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey have resided in Woodstock since 1886. Of his four children three are living—James G. Harvey, Esq., of White River, and the two daughters who are at home. One sister, Miss Susan A. Harvey resides in Hacketts-town, N. J.

The funeral service was held at the house on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the Rev. Benjamin Swift attending, and burial will be held in the River street cemetery.

Annual Encampment, G. A. R.

The annual encampment of the department of Vermont, Grand Army of the Republic, will be at Burlington in June. The present department commander is Dr. C. M. Ferrin, of Essex Junction.

Misses Bertha and Ruth Slack are with Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Slack during school vacation at Proctorsville and Cavendish, where they are teaching.

Mrs. Mary Grace Canfield will speak on temperance at West Woodstock schoolhouse Tuesday evening, March 19, at 8 o'clock.

Leon Gray and family, who were living in the King cottage, have moved to the old Boyce place near Westerdale.

Our school closed on Friday for a few weeks' vacation.

Our merchant, R. O. Bramana is visiting a sister and her husband at Westport, N. Y., and a brother at Bennington.

BRIDGEWATER.

A meeting of the Ladies' Aid will be held with Mrs. Harmie Hawkins Wednesday afternoon, March 20.

Bourdon's moving pictures at Union hall this evening.

Edward Smith is passing a week in Bristol.

The Boys' club is rehearsing the play, "The Time of His Life," and its presentation is eagerly awaited.

Mrs. Lucy Whiting Wilson, aged 77 years, died last week Friday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. A. Davis. She was married in Boston to Horace Wilson in 1859. They lived in Waltham, Mass., many years, coming to Barnard in 1880, where Mr. Wilson died in 1895, and later Mrs. Wilson came to Bridgewater. Mrs. C. B. Corey is a daughter, and she leaves four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. The funeral service was held Sunday afternoon, Rev. H. L. Canfield of Woodstock officiating.

WEST BRIDGEWATER.

Burr Moore was in Rutland last of the week.

F. A. Pearsons of Rutland came to G. E. Pearsons' Friday.

Mrs. C. L. Coates' went Thursday to Andover, N. H., and intends visiting relatives in other places.

Mrs. Allen Hadley and two children visited with relatives the last of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Orris Loomis have gone to Bethel and Randolph.

Between 20 and 30 couples attended the dance at the hall last Friday night.

Mrs. Hattie Pearsons has been appointed postmistress, Mrs. Hattie Coates having resigned.

SOUTH POMFRET

Mrs. Alton Badger of Claremont, N. H., was at her father's here a few days the past week.

Mrs. Mark Boynton and Mrs. John Gibson spent a week in Ludlow recently.

Henry Howe was in Massachusetts a few days last week.

The many friends of Mrs. Emma Adams are pleased to learn she is on the road to recovery, after her quite severe illness.

Clyde H. Totman and wife were in West Woodstock Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reed and grandson, Gerald Wheeler, visited Mr. Reed's brother in Taftsville Sunday.

Mrs. J. G. DeRose is ill with a distemper and her daughter, Mrs. Barron, of Woodstock, is doing the housework at present time.

The postmistress, Mrs. Elbridge Perry, who has conducted the office satisfactorily to the government and with little complaint from the box renters, for several years, has sent in her resignation. This is Mrs. Perry's second term, making 11 years' service for Uncle Sam in this capacity. If there be no applicant to fill the vacancy, we have been assured by Postmaster Chapman that he will give us free delivery, which would be highly appreciated by a majority of the inhabitants, judging from private opinions expressed.

F. C. Perry, our veteran mail carrier, favors R. F. D., and has spent some time of late to accomplish it. Think everyone would be benefited to a certain extent.

Henry Howe's brother, who purchased the "Spooners farm," took possession of his new home this week.

HARTLAND.

Rev. George Washington French of West Hartford will exchange pulpits with Rev. Hermann Lohmann March 17.

The D. O. L. will observe their second anniversary Monday, March 18, afternoon and evening, in the village room with a sale of cooked food and ice cream.

YOUNG LAWYER KILLED.

Robert A. Lawrence of Rutland Accidentally Electrocuted.

Robert A. Lawrence, one of Vermont's best known young lawyers, son-in-law of W. B. O. Stickney of Bethel, was accidentally electrocuted at his home in Rutland Sunday morning.

Mr. Lawrence was standing in a few inches of water in a bath tub and reached above his head to turn off an electric light. In some unaccountable manner the fixture had become heavily charged with electricity and he received a shock which killed him instantly. Mrs. Lawrence heard him cry out and when she went to the bath room found his body standing erect in the tub while both hands clenching the light fixture. In releasing her husband's hands she received a considerable shock, but the fact that she was standing on boards lessened its intensity.

Mr. Lawrence was born in Rutland in 1878, and graduated at the University of Vermont in 1899. He was state's attorney of Rutland county for four years, and has been concerned in some important criminal and civil cases.

Mr. Lawrence was married on April 25, 1911, to Miss Mary Stickney, daughter of Attorney and Mrs. W. B. O. Stickney of Bethel.

Gay G. Cowen, superintendent of the lighting company, said regarding the accident:

"Only 115 volts were found in the wires on North Main street, when we tested them Sunday. I cannot see how this could produce death, unless a person was subject to a weak heart or otherwise in ill

E. F. Wardwell

Mr. Business Man!

Would you deliberately expose your wife or child to sickness by sending either of them out to deliver a message on a raw, stormy night?

Would you care to go yourself?

Think a Minute!

Your wife, or some member of your family, is obliged to do this very thing, perhaps go way in town on some domestic errand nearly every day,—unless there is a telephone in the house to do it for them.

If you have not a telephone, don't you think you owe one to your wife and family as a safeguard to their health?

The cost is but a few cents a day. Confer with our Local Manager.

health. If a person was standing in water when he received a shock, it would be intensified, but the volts received would not be increased. If a person takes hold of the metal surrounding the socket of an electric light and has a ground contact at the same time, of course he will get a shock, but nothing very severe."

SOUTH WOODSTOCK.

Mrs. Lila Bowen and son Jack of Omaha, Neb., who came on with the remains of her aunt, Mrs. Mary Ann Kendall, left Woodstock on Wednesday for their return trip.
